Votes for Women: A New York Centennial

Neuberger Museum of Art

Beginning in September, the Neuberger will be exhibiting a show called "Votes for Women: A New York Centennial" in our Open Classroom space; it will open roughly around 9/10 and will run for the duration of the fall '17 semester. The show originates from the NY State Museum and celebrates the 100th anniversary of the New York women's suffrage movement. In the space we will also have interactive voting booths.

Poster Contest

The Office of Community Engagement is looking for entries into our Constitution Day Poster Contest as we celebrate Constitution Day on September 18 on our campus. The designs (electronic, drawings or paintings, etc.) of the posters should show how you have benefited from the freedoms embodied in the U.S. Constitution, including the Bill of Rights and Amendments. We are looking for creative, colorful handmade designs showing your American spirit!

Entries should be received by September 11, 2017 and delivered to Campus Center North, 2nd Floor, Office of Community Engagement. The winner of the poster contest will receive a $50.00 VISA gift card. The selected winner will be determined by votes received from the campus community on September 18 at the voting registration machine located in the Neuberger Museum.
