INTRODUCTION

The Purchase College, SUNY, Career Development Center (CDC) conducted the 15TH annual Life after Purchase Graduate Survey: First Destination Survey for the Class of 2018, with data collection beginning 8-12 months after commencement. This annual report was implemented in accordance with national standards and protocol for college "First Destination Graduate Surveys," consistent with reporting career outcome (National Association of Colleges and Employers, 2018).

Our findings will show that the current career fields, industries, and specific jobs/occupational fields where Purchase graduates initially locate employment will vary. The survey reports are based on a career knowledge/response rate of 64% the 2018 graduates. Survey data is gathered to determine our graduate's career outcome, focusing more specifically on Employment Status, Graduate/Professional School Enrollment, and Career Development Center usage.

I. EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

This 15TH annual Life after Purchase Graduate Survey for the Class of 2018 details the post-graduate employment and graduate school enrollment supporting the graduates positive career outcome. The graduates of 2018 include those who graduated summer 2017, winter 2018 and May 2018. Overall, the findings show that Purchase College graduate employment and graduate school enrollment outcome remains positive, with a 3% over increase for employment and grad school.

- 92% of the 2018 graduates are either employed or in graduate school, with 88% working only and 4% in graduate school only.
- Nearly 88% of graduates were found with positive career outcome; they are either working, in a post graduate internship or fellowship, entrepreneurial or creative pursuits, gap year experience, military, or enrolled in graduate school at the time of the survey.
- 13% reportedly are enrolled in graduate or professional school, with 7.8% both employed and in graduate school.
- Of those employed, 84.1% are employed full or in a part-time capacity including self-employment, performing or freelancing in the arts. 54% are employed full time, 41% part time, and 8% are employed with an unknown classification.
- 61.3% (222) of the respondents reported that their employment was either related or somewhat related to their field of academic study
- 52% of the graduates found employment before graduation. 12% were offered employment following a successful internship.
- 71% of these graduates were also found to be employed in a field relevant to their major, representing a significant increase of 26%.
- 68% of the graduates had at least one internship while at Purchase, increasing by more than 30%. 71.6% interned for credit 15% for pay only and 6.5% for both credit and pay.
- 69% of graduates from the School of Arts, 71% from LAS, and 57.2% from LSCE completed at least one internship while at Purchase, reported increases in all schools of at least 20%.
- 67.5% of the respondents reported that as a result of their academic program, they are better prepared for their careers.
- 67% of those who agree that their academic program prepared them for their careers, also used the Career Development Center.
- 93% of respondents rate the quality of the Career Center as excellent, very helpful or somewhat helpful. 68% report that the CDC exceeded or met their expectations.*
- Approximately 32% of those employed found their position through services or resources available at Career Development.
- 75% of Graduates were employed in a full time or part time job while at Purchase.

- Our graduates are employed in many industries, however, the top 5 are Arts, Business, Communications/Media, Education, Public Service & Human Services, and Health/Science & Technology.

II. METHODOLOGY AND KNOWLEDGE RATE

Career outcome data was secured from 661 out of 1027 graduates for the Class of 2018. This included summer, winter, and spring graduates. In accordance with the national graduate survey protocol and guidelines by the National Association of Colleges and Employers (NACE) for First Destination Surveys, the CDC initiated data collection utilizing a more widely accepted range of graduate data research methods to strengthen our ability to provide a more complete picture of post graduate employment. Career outcome data secured represents an overall knowledge rate* of 64%. Outcome data is collected through multiple methods for data collection including phone survey interviews, mailed surveys, web survey, LinkedIn and other social media sourcing, faculty outreach email, and employer and parental reporting, where appropriate. This year Survey Monkey was utilized resulting in a significant increase via mobile response rate.

(Knowledge Rate*: Describes the percentages of graduates for which the institution has reasonable and verifiable information concerning the grads post graduate career activities.)

Throughout the data analysis, all questions that were not answered by respondents or "missing values" were omitted and not included in the calculations. As a result, the number of responses varies depending on the question asked.

III. CAREER OUTCOME HIGHLIGHTS

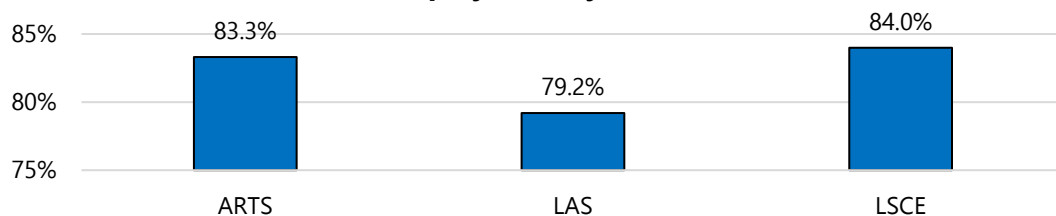

a. Employment Status

This year's survey data showed 92% of the 2018 Purchase graduates having positive career outcome encompassing full-time or part-time employment (including those self-employed, performing, creative arts freelancing, serving in the military, or gap year service) or current enrollment in graduate school. 84% of the respondents were found to be working at the time of the survey, with 54% full time, 41% part time, and 5% of graduates are employed in some capacity though the classification is unknown. 18.6 % of the part time employment includes students from the SOA. Of those SOA grads reportedly self-employed part time, 51% also reported to have a secondary job to help support themselves while launching their careers. 2.3% were self-employed full time (decrease), and 1.2% were self-employed part-time. Of the grads who reported to be self-employed full time, 76.9% are from the School of the Arts while 15.4% are from LAS.

c. Employment Fields & Relationship to Academic Studies

For many students, post-graduate employment is pursued, whenever possible, in the graduates' field of interest and where opportunities tend to fit their competencies and qualifications.

The career outcome for our graduates this year suggests that 71% found employment that is either directly or somewhat related to their studies or area of interest.

IV. CAREER CHOICES: Employment as related to Major

a. Academic Program Preparation and Careers: A robust 67.2% of the respondents reported that as a result of their academic program, they felt better prepared for their careers. 30.4% strongly agree with this statement and 36.8% agree.

- 73% of Arts graduates either strongly agree or agree
- 70% of LAS graduates strongly agree or agree
- 52% of LSCE students either strongly agree or agree that they were prepared for their careers as a result of their academic programs.

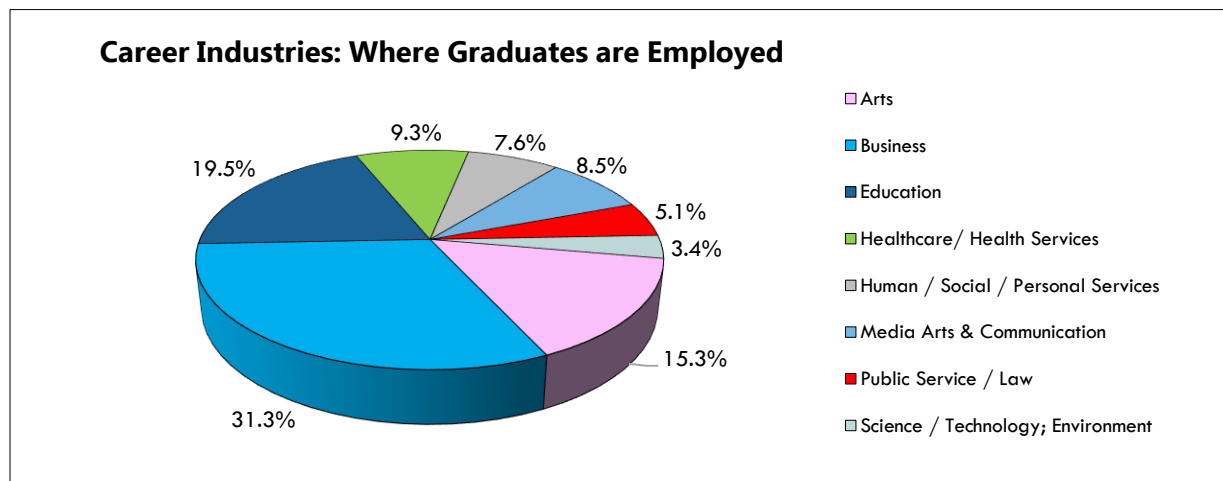

1. Of further interest, data suggests that 67% of the respondents who agreed that their academic programs prepared them for their careers also used the Career Development Center, suggesting an important connection to the career development usage to our student's academic foundation and overall career/employment preparation.

V. Career Fields & Industries: Where Purchase Grads are Employed

The broad industries where the graduates most commonly locate initial postgraduate employment are grouped below.

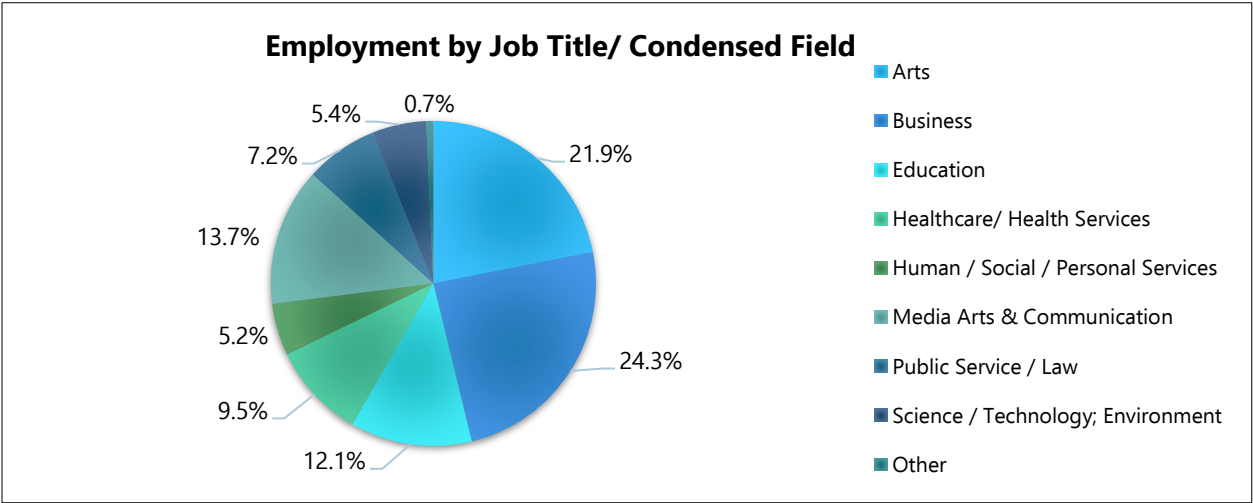

Employment by industry is condensed as to where their jobs have been located including in businesses 31.3%, including those finding opportunities creative areas (marketing, social media, event planning, hotel and hospitality, etc.) Purchase graduates also found work in the Arts with 15.3% working in related fields. Media & Communications industry at 13.6%, Education is the next most common industry where students are finding jobs at 19.5%. 9.5% are working in Health Care, and 9.3% in Public Service/Law followed by Science/Tech at 3.4% and Human Services 7.6% grads found work. These represent the industry where the grad is employed rather than the specific occupational title, which may be more relevant to their chose careers or majors.

Purchase graduates working in many diverse industries also hold a wide variety of occupational titles and positions. The graph below represents the broad career field where they are employed and the relevant type of job/occupation condensed into career fields organized by School or Conservatory.

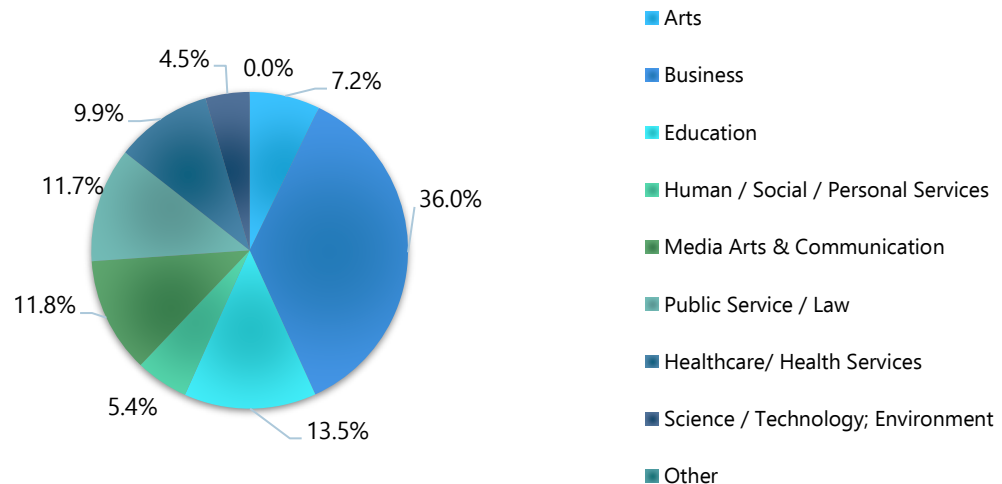

Employment by Job Title: School of the Arts

Employment by Job Title: School LAS

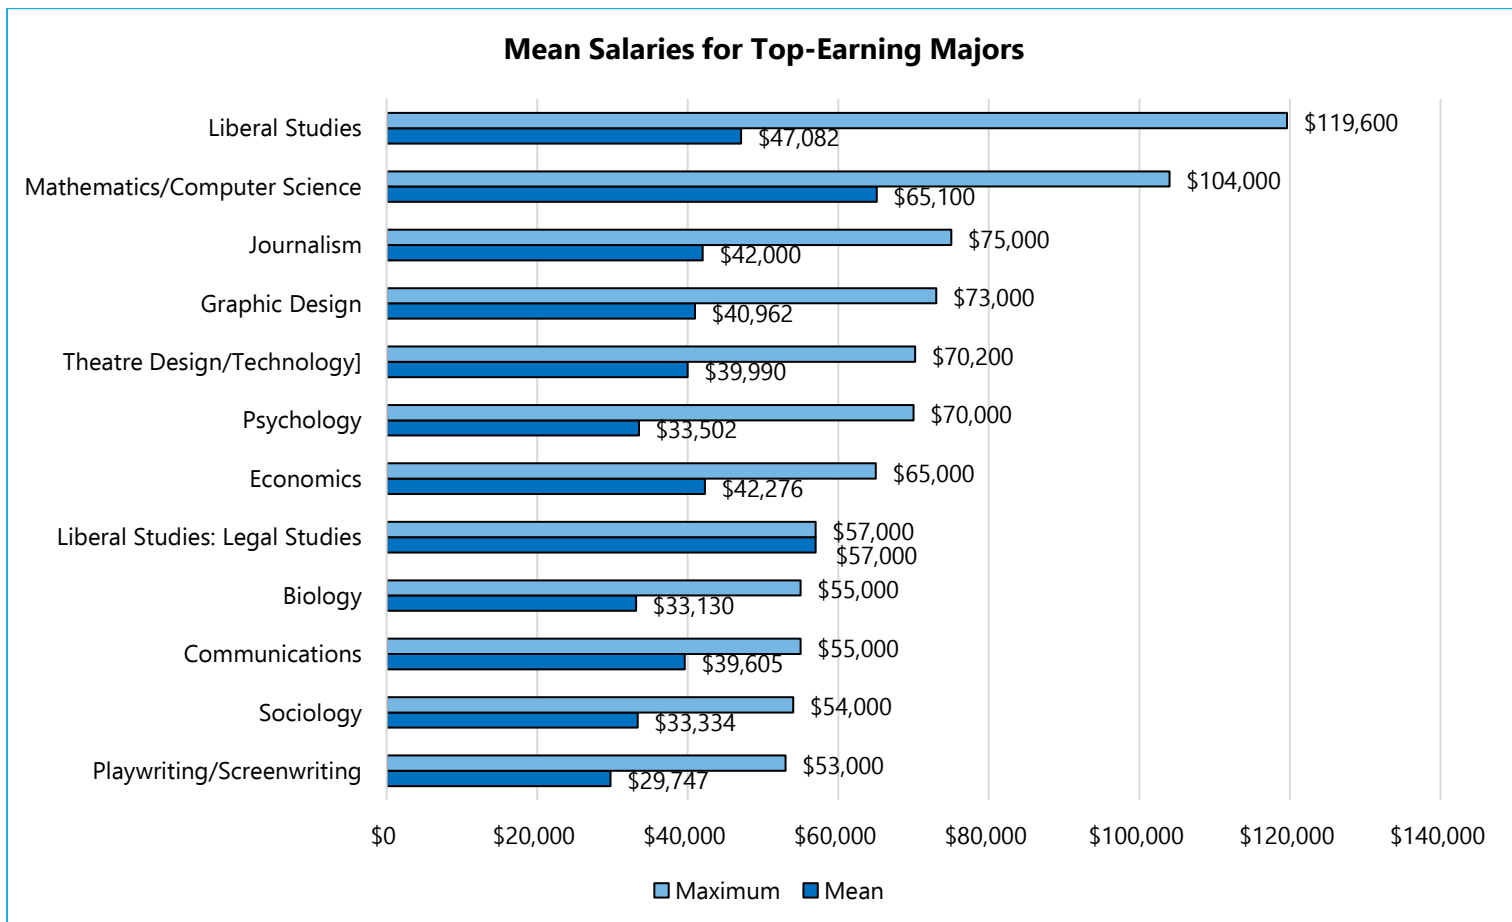

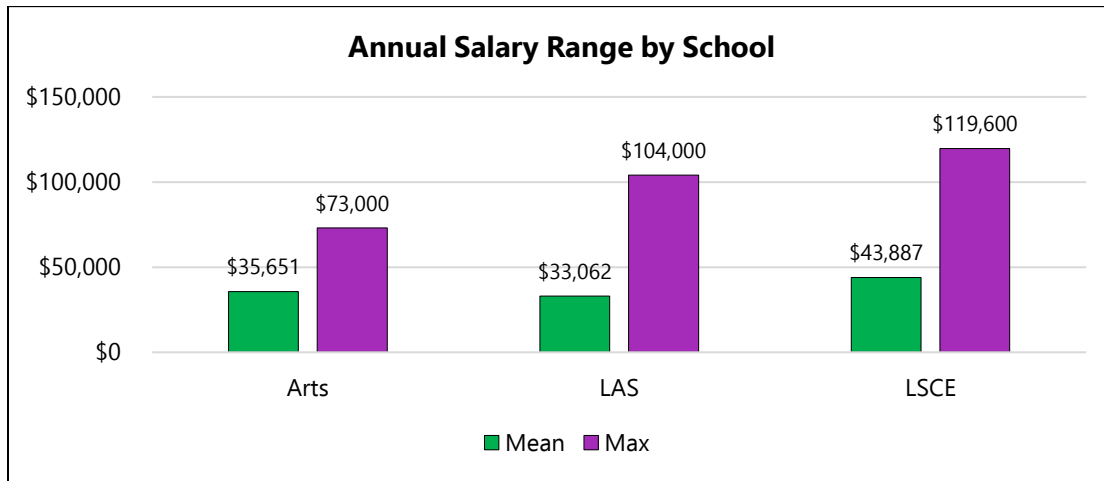

Employment by Job Title: School LSCE

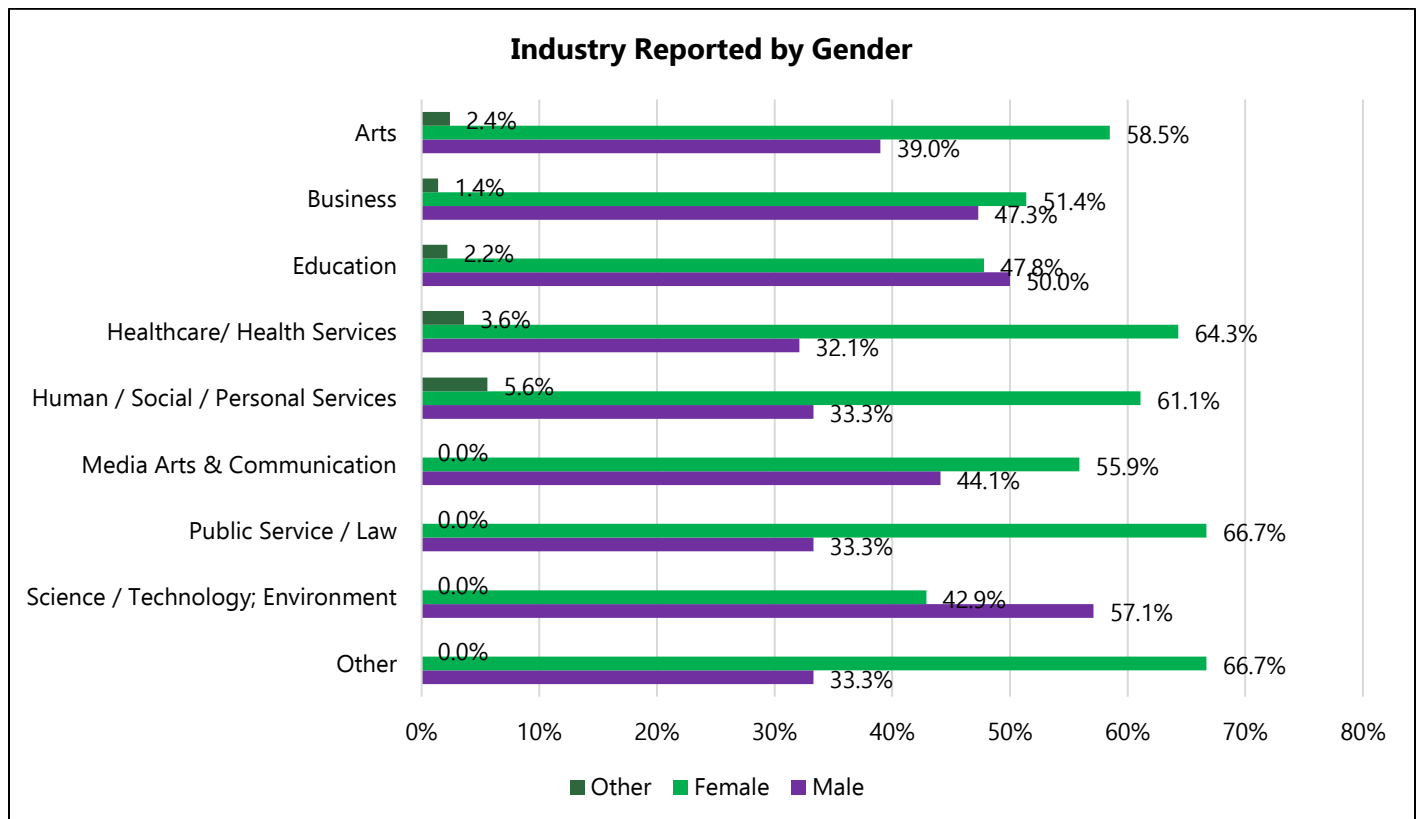

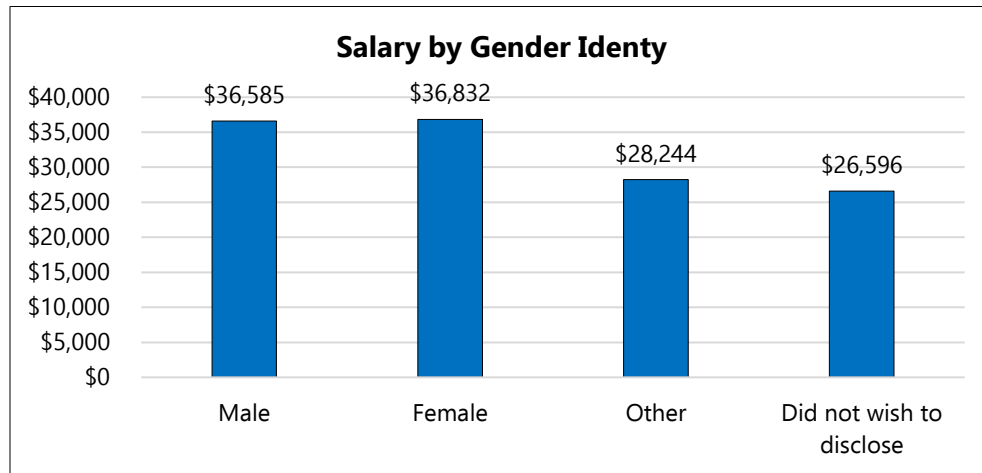

VI. SALARIES

Those reporting salary who are also performing, freelancing or working in a part time or consultancy capacity are not counted in the FTE annual salary averages. Only 30% of Purchase graduates reported their actual annual full time salary, with industries included and averaged. The mean or average salary for those reporting by major this year is slightly above the national average for full-time employment, at approximately $40,000, with the national average for liberal arts majors $39,172 (NACE 2018 Salary Survey). Salary levels may vary significantly year to year with various range fluctuations reported for certain industries and entry level positions. The average reported salary by graduates in the School of the Arts at Purchase was $35,136 while the national average for visual and performing arts is $37,006.

- a. Average Salary by Gender: This year, those identifying as female reported a slightly higher average salary over those identifying as male, however slight, this demonstrates positive movement. While salary varies by industry and occupational title, reported pay inequity is consistently apparent among genders. This year, there does not, however, appear to be a clear link to the salary inequity with career field/industry nor does it appear a result of higher compensation expected per specific job titles. 41.7% of those identifying as male respondents reported their annual salaries, while 55% of those who identified as female respondents reported their annual salaries. The Career Development Center continues to offer salary negotiation training in partnership with AAUW (American Association of University Women) for students while providing information and resources on salary equity in discussions with prospective employers.

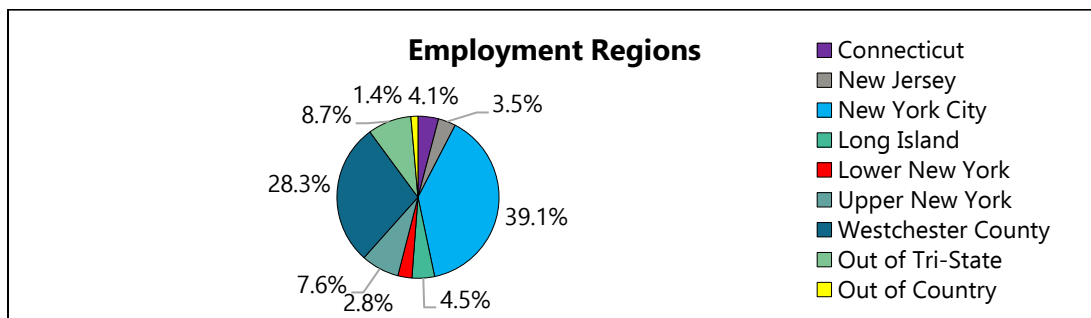

b. Longitudinal First Destination Employment by Industry, from the Class of 2010 to 2018

VII. LOCATING EMPLOYMENT: How and Where Purchase Graduates Find Jobs

Through individual and group career coaching, job and internship referral, networking with professionals and alumni, and other important career tools and resources, students learn the value of personal self-marketing and artistic branding, along with skill and interest development. The Career Development Center engages in career development programming and initiatives to help prepare students for employment and their future careers. While graduates seek and have found employment opportunities both here and abroad, a majority find their job opportunities generally in the NY metropolitan area, with 91% of graduates reporting their region of employment as within NYS.

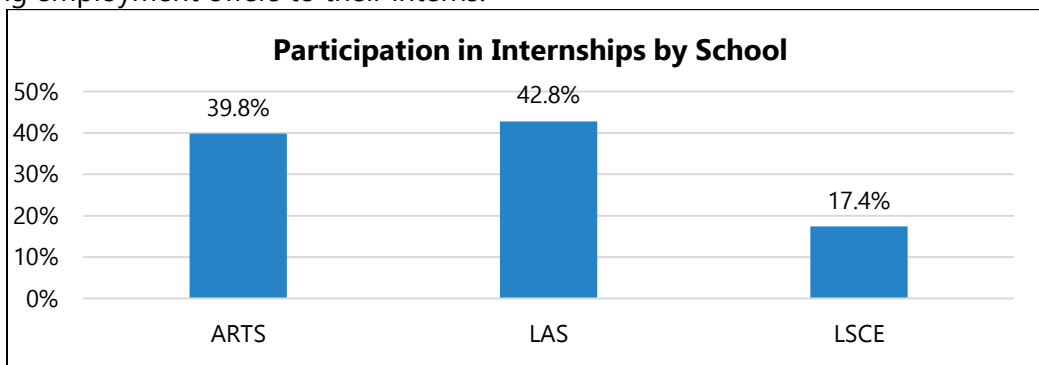

a. Finding Jobs: Career Development Center Usage

53% of the Class of 2018 reported they already had a job offer by graduation. 30%, attribute their employment search strategy as one available or recommended through the Career Development programs and services as helping them secure employment, either directly or indirectly.

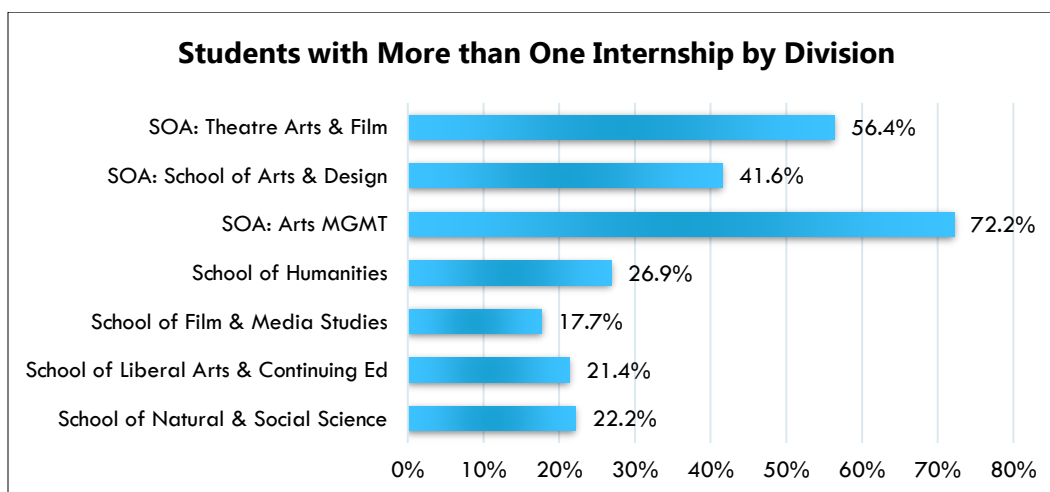

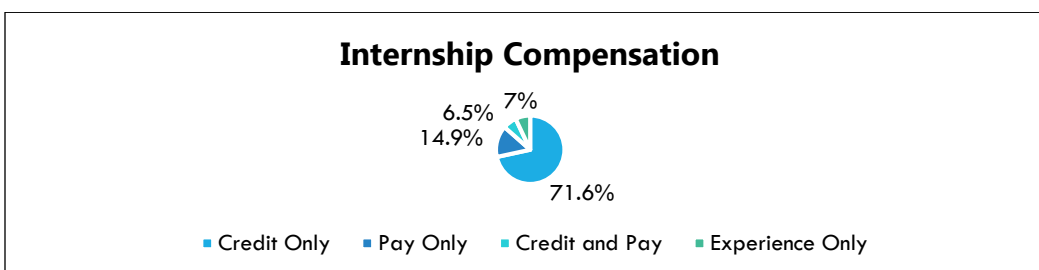

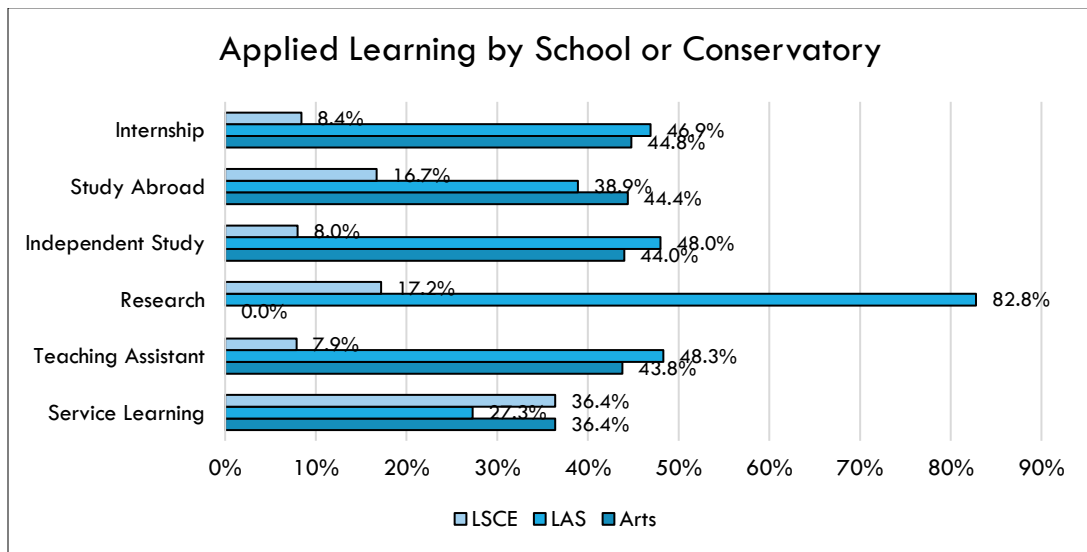

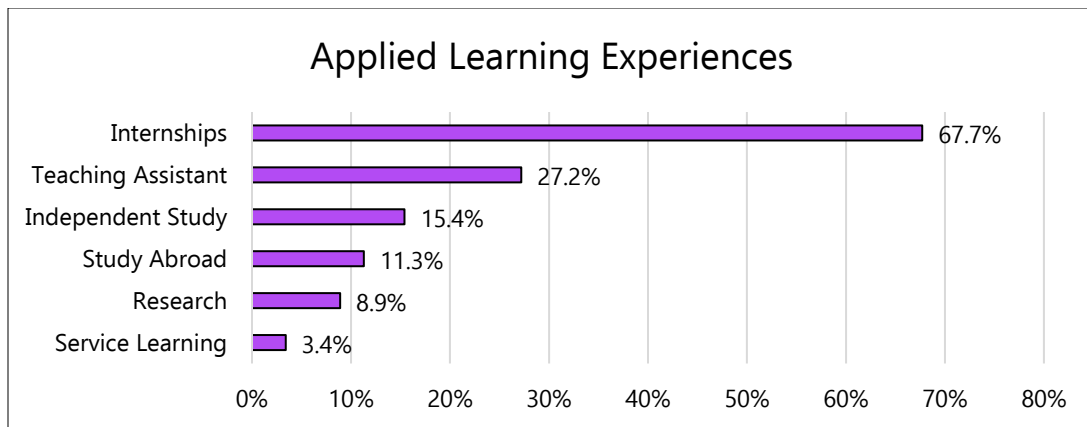

b. Applied Learning: Internship Participation

Internships and other forms of applied learning can play an important role in a Purchase College graduates career readiness and job market preparation. According to the national research, graduates who interned at one or more organizations are more likely to develop job related skills and personal qualities that can prepare them for employment. (2018 NACE Internship & Co-op Survey). 68% of graduates participated in at least one internship. Furthermore, those who reported having at least one or more internship while at Purchase were also found to be employed at higher rates after graduation (89%), once again supporting the validity of one's internship experience and other applied learning for strengthening a graduates prospects for employment. A positive outcome of internships though not assured, may be an offer of employment. This year, 5% of grads accepted job offers as a result of their internships while 7% of the employers also serving as internship sites, reported making employment offers to their interns.

Reported outcome for the graduates as most active internship participation were from respondents from Graphic Design 85.7%, Environmental Studies 100%, AMG 100%, New Media 90.9%, Sociology 86.7%. Other notable participation from Math/Com Sci 50%, Literature 50%, Media Studies 33.3%, Journalism 93.8%, Studio Production 60%, Theater and Performance 59.1%, Psychology 70.8%.

Close to 80% of Purchase grads reported having at least one applied learning experience, while 43% had more than one experiential learning experience. Students participate in a variety of applied learning venues on and off campus. In addition to their required senior project, most students will elect to gain further career related experience by participating in such high impact activities as internships, teaching assistantships, independent study, study abroad, service learning, and research.

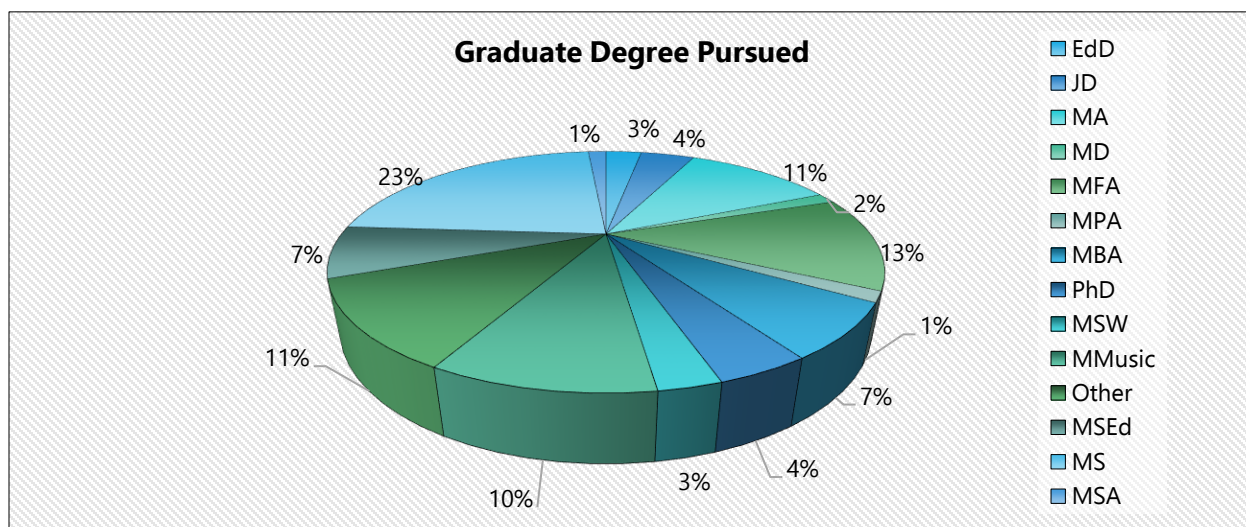

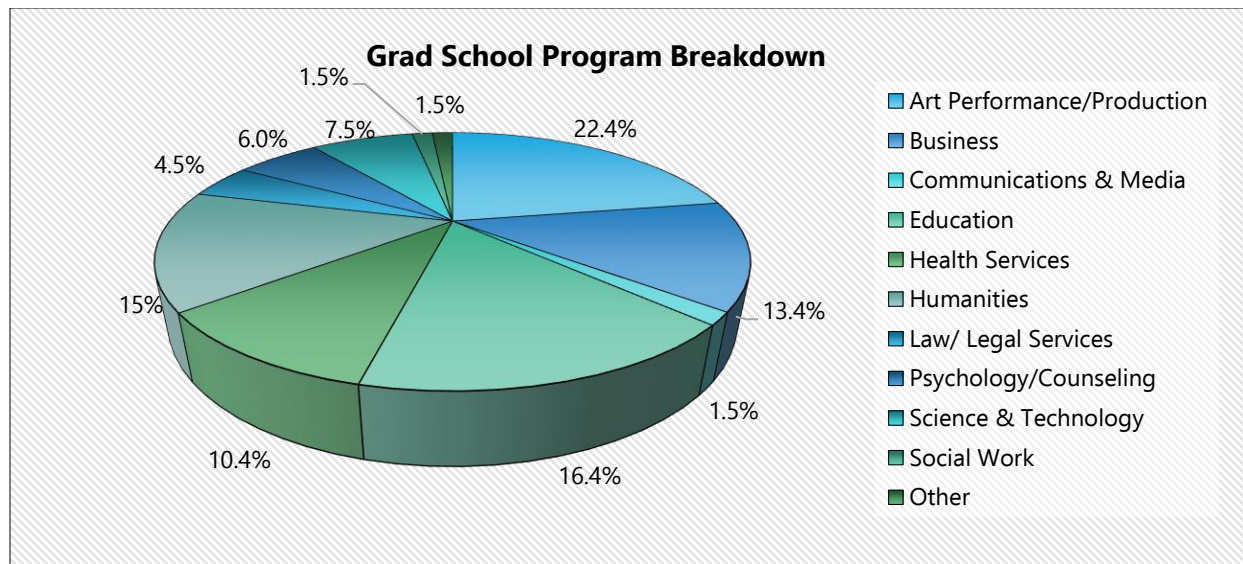

GRADUATE AND PROFESSIONAL SCHOOL ENROLLMENT

1. 13.3% (60) of all respondents were enrolled in graduate or professional school at the time of the survey. Of those enrolled, 83% are enrolled full-time and 17% are enrolled part-time.
2. For all enrolled graduate students, 27.1% are also working full-time, and 42.4% are also working part-time, with graduates needing often to work while in graduate school to support their living and academic expenses.
 - This year, however, a higher rate of 34% (20% increase) of those in graduate school are not working while in school.
 - 41.4% are planning to enroll in 2-5 years. Of those not enrolled 31.5% are not planning to enroll.

VIII. GRADUATE PROGRAMS AND ACADEMIC DISCIPLINES

Art Performance this year is the 1st choice for academic field of study for graduate education at 22.4% enrolled, next is graduate study in Education at 16.4% followed by Business with 15% enrolled. Psychology/Counseling graduate enrollment was next highest with 13.4%

IX. CAREER DEVELOPMENT: GRADUATES' USAGE AND PARTICIPATION

- ❖ 85.3% of the 2018 graduate respondents participated in one or more CDC services and programs, with the student engagement at the Purchase Career Development Center slightly above national average the same graduates standing at 72%
- ❖ 93.7% respondents rated the quality of the services used a CDC as excellent, very helpful, or somewhat helpful an increasing by 4.5%
- ❖ 67.6% of those who used the services reported that the CDC met or exceeded expectations.
- ❖ The services most often used were Purchase Job Score system with 75% of the respondents using the system one or more times, 50.7% participating in resume and personal statement critiques, and 43.1% participated in career counseling/coaching appointments. Additional services used extensively with students include academic internships, job and grad school fairs, alumni networking events and workshops.

a. Employment & Career Development Center Usage:

Of the graduates employed full time, 84.3 % also used the Career Development Center. 93.4% respondents rated the quality of the services used at the CDC as excellent, very helpful, or somewhat helpful. Our findings suggest that for those using at least one or more career center resource for selfmarketing, professional career readiness, strategic job search, those reporting usage are generally more likely equipped and will locate employment faster than those who elect not to use the resources.

X. SUMMARY & HIGHLIGHTS

University Career Centers nationwide continue to make an important impact on the career readiness and career outcome of college students. The career outcome reported in the Life after Purchase: First Destination Survey provides further evidence to support the excellence of our graduates both as students and later gainfully employed and successful alumni.

This "Proof of Purchase" is demonstrated in many forms—with the majority (@88%) reporting positive career outcome that including employment, graduate school enrollment, post graduate internships, and/or participation in post graduate service or gap year programs. Our graduates are also pursuing, and gaining entry into a competitive job market, in addition to gaining acceptance to competitive graduate and professional programs, in addition to building upon their artistic careers and entrepreneurial ventures.

As we continue to develop and fortify strong collaborations and partnerships across campus, the Career Center will also work to expand opportunities for our students so that they may graduate with career related experience while also developing important competencies as they prepare for their future careers.

Highlights:

- 92% of the graduates this year were either employed or enrolled in graduate or professional school at the time the survey was conducted.
- 13% are enrolled in graduate or professional school, with 7.8% both working and in graduate school.
- Our graduates are employed across 30 industries, with industry consolidation canvassing 5 key employment fields Arts, Education, Business, Media & Communications, and Science/ Tech & Environment.
- Arts Performance is the most popular graduate program for 2018 alumni, followed by Psychology, Education, and Business as close alternate fields of choice for graduate education. 6% are currently enrolled in law school.

- 80% of Purchase students participated in at least one applied learning experience.
- 71% of Purchase graduates reported employment as directly or somewhat related to their area of study.

The Career Development Center continues the mission to engage students and alumni with inclusive career educational programming and customized career resources/services/tools that can both complement their education and assist in building important skills for personal and professional "career readiness".

As in previous years, the Life after Purchase report offers insight on graduate outcome that supports our mission. The Purchase College students, who are highly engaged both in and outside the classroom as well as those connected to academic/career relevant programs and services throughout their college years, are found to be better prepared and are more likely successful in securing employment and other post-graduate professional endeavors.
