Words in Art

Artists use words in artworks to change and create new meanings. In this work, titled "Grow," artist Les Levine positions the word "GROW" on top of a landscape.

Color and draw in the tracing below.

Use your own colors to transform this artwork. What do you see growing near you this spring that inspires your color choices? What color does the word "Grow" make you think of? What does the word mean to you and how can you show that in your artwork?

neu Neuberger Museum of Art