

P.A.D. is an exhibition space in the historic SOHO District in New York City. It reflects the bustling economy of artists making, selling and promoting their artworks on the street year-round, weather permitting. The aim of the space is to platform small and editioned works by artists that are interested in exploring new ways of exhibiting.

P.A.D. [Project Art Distribution]

P.A.D. is a project space that stages one-day pop-up exhibitions on the street in SoHo (New York) under the guise of a street vendor. The aim is for work to be sold and distributed, ideally for under $75, as a way to make contemporary art more accessible and its ownership more affordable. Press release and checklist conventions are upheld and the spontaneous, ephemeral nature of the project invites collaboration and outside curation. The time spent on the street, out in the open, with the public creates a sense of community between the participating artists and facilitates a unique dialogue with strangers. Since the project began in 2017, there have been 50 exhibitions.

Recent guest curation and projects include Wendy's Subway (Brooklyn, NY), F Magazine (Houston, TX), Cassandra Press/Kandis Williams (Los Angeles, CA), and A-Z West/Andrea Zittel (Joshua Tree, CA).

In 2021 P.A.D. turned a new corner. The project traveled internationally for the first time, as a participant in Various Others Munich sponsored by Galerie Christine Mayer; participated in NADA House and NADA x Foreland; and was made a NADA 'Introductory Gallery Member'. 2021 also marked our first solo exhibitions, with projects by B. Wurtz and A. Pfeiffer McNay.

Initially drawing from a local community of artists and friends for group exhibitions, P.A.D. has expanded its community, exhibiting noteworthy emerging and mid-career artists such as Ilana Harris-Babou, Paul Ramirez Jonas, and Alexandro Segade.

The year culminated in the gallery's own retrospective at Walter's, the contemporary wing of the Walter Elwood Museum in Amsterstam, NY.

The retrospective included over 400 works by over 200 artists from our first 4.5 seasons of exhibitions.

The exhibition begins with a section of the 'pad column' repurposed from our NADA House exhibitions, includes a tribute to Barbara Ess organized by F Magazine, and ends with a selection of artist zines and books contributed by Wendy's Subway, prompt., and Primary Information in the museum's zine room with a permanent installation by Lauren Clay.
